For all positions in which no election took place, as per the Act Respecting Health Services and Social Services, article 530.15, the regional board shall appoint the member not later than 31 December in the year in which the election or appointment was to take place.

Murray McDonald, Executive Director of the IHC, congratulates the representatives and mentions that “Their contributions will allow for the establishment’s continued effort to improve the quality of services to the population.”

Larry Watt, Executive Director of the UTHC, stated “Thank you to all candidates interested to actively participate in the responsibilities associated with the Board of Directors, congratulations to those elected. There are concerns around the fact that no candidates presented themselves in most communities. Stimulating interest in the UTHC for the future is definitely something to consider.”

The Nunavik Regional Board of Health and Social Services is a public agency created in 1978 under the James Bay and Northern Quebec Agreement. It is responsible for nearly the entire Quebec territory located north of the 55th parallel in terms of the provision of health and social services for the inhabitants of the 14 communities.
